

ICSU RULES OF PROCEDURE

The International Council for Science (ICSU) at PACMUN 2019 will largely follow PACMUN's Long-Form Rules of Procedure, which can be found on our website under Resources.

However, one notable addition to PACMUN's Long-Form Rules of Procedure is ICSU's Assemblies Procedure which is outlined below.

ICSU ASSEMBLY PROCEDURE

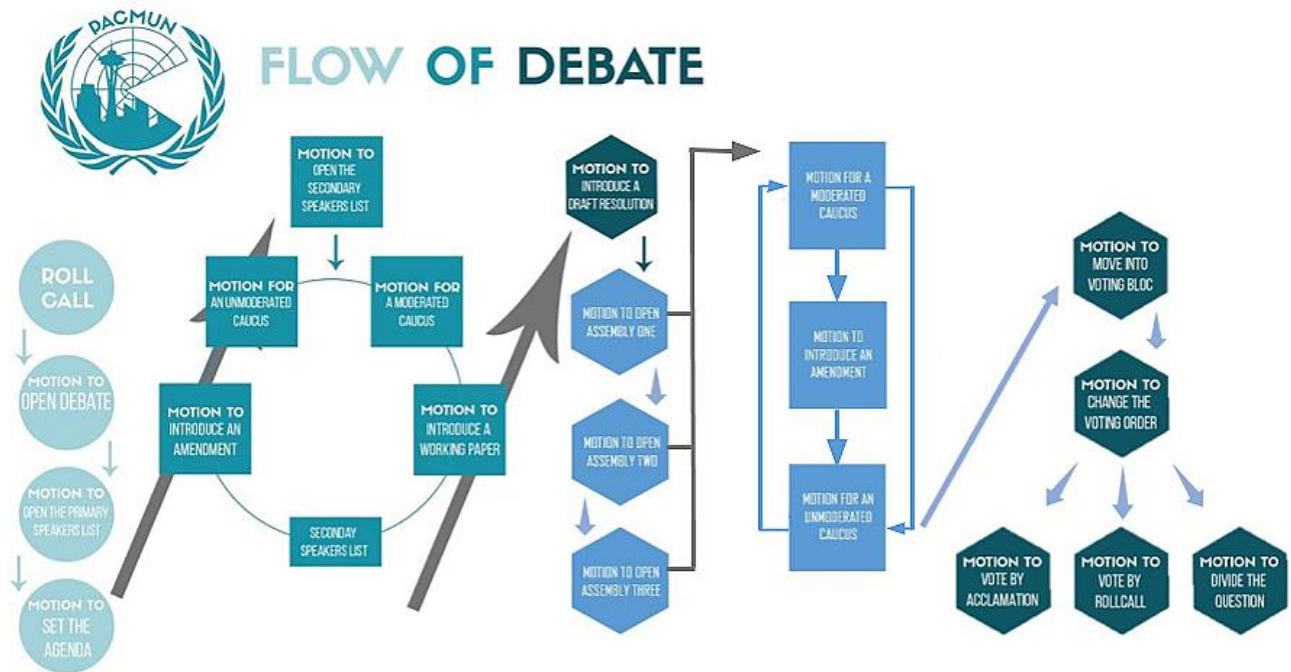

ICSU will only allow one draft resolution to enter the Assembly Procedure. If multiple draft resolutions are presented, they must combine or discard resolutions until one is remaining.

Delegates must still submit their working paper to the dais to ensure that formatting is appropriate.

Delegates can motion to enter Assembly Procedure once they feel that the committee's single draft resolution is sufficiently written. Assembly Procedure occurs directly prior to Voting Bloc.

Each Assembly within Assembly Procedure will contain a moderated caucus. When the committee passes the motion to enter Assembly Procedure, the committee will motion for a moderated caucus on a specific topic within the given Assembly's focus. In these moderated caucuses, delegates will discuss the merits of the draft resolution's adherence to the Assembly's expectations as outlined below.

Delegates will be able to propose amendments by raising their placards and motioning to propose an amendment that they have written. An Assembly will end at dais discretion, and when one assembly ends, the committee immediately moves into the next.

Assembly I - Planning and Review

Assembly I ensures that the draft resolution discusses long term planning and risk prevention issues and looks for specific legislation, actions or procedures that would enable countries to address the worsening of the issue in advance. Additionally, Assembly I ensures that there are methods that allow the issue to be monitored and ways to ensure that countries are fulfilling their appropriate roles as outlined in the draft resolution.

Assembly II - Freedom and Responsibility

Assembly II ensures that the draft resolution outlines specifics of addressing each sub-issue appropriately through:

- Verifying appropriate and detailed regulations that must be encouraged
- Confirming number values regarding the amount of resources needed or dates for timelines
- Determining repercussions for lack of action or violation of freedom/sovereignty

Assembly II also ensures that the draft resolution at hand upholds all the tenets of human rights decreed on the Universal Declaration of Human Rights written by the United Nations Human Rights Council (UNHRC). Additionally, Assembly II will ensure that the draft resolution upholds and stays within the realm of the responsibilities of the ICSU.

Assembly III - Financing

Assembly III ensures that the draft resolution will identify not only the specific organizations and associations willing to support potential the draft resolution and long-term solutions to the given issues, but also the encouraged/estimated percentage that they will contribute. Assembly III will also determine how the investments will lead to progress, how debts and interest will recover, and will outline the repercussions if countries are unable to pay back debt.

Additionally, Assembly III can outline ways to finance the solutions other than taking money from each country but can also outline differing financial responsibilities based on the country's level of development or otherwise.
